M-320 Cash journal, July 1, 1829-Jan.30, 1830. 1 item.

A diary of daily in-and-out cash transactions, this record notes pounds and pence exchanged rather than dollars and cents. None of the name entries are familiar in Hawaiian records and no Hawaiian names appear.

It is possible that this is a cash journal of the activities of the New South Wales branch of Pitman, French & Co, and that this book was included in the collection of William French's books and records in the settlement of the French-Greenway Estate.

See also M-312 - William French, 1794?-1851.

M-314 Cash receipts and cash expenses, June 18, 1846-March 1, 1847.
1 item.

These records include names of residents in Hilo, Lahaina and Honolulu, but can not be otherwise identified.

M-183 Castle, Samuel Northrup, 1808-1894.

Correspondence, 1881-1917. 40 items.

Letters, envelopes and fragments in Norwegian (1 English, 1 Portuguese) from Norway, Hawaii and California, to and between Mrs. Christoffersen's forebears, (who came to Hawaii as contract laborers from Norway in 1881.) ?

M-330 Citizens' Committee of Hawaii, 1949-1950.

History.

Citizens' Committee of Hawaii was formed May 13, 1949, with original purpose of asking "union and employers to end long-shoremen's strike quickly and to unload strikebound freighters if settlement efforts failed"; Committee instituted legal action to seize strike-bound cargoes and unload ships, sent delegates to Governor Stainback and held mass meetings during strike; applied for and received Charter of Incorporation, Oct. 1949; disbanded "temporarily" Jan, 1950, "to be organized again if needed".

M-296 Civic Federation of Hawaii.

History of Liliuokalani Gardens.

The property immediately surrounding Waikahalulu Falls in Nuuanu Street belonged to ex-Queen Liliuokalani when the first suggestion was made, by Alexander Hume Ford in 1907/1908, that this area between School and Kuakini Streets be made into a public park. The first plan was that it was to be developed into an International botanic garden, sponsored by the Pan Pacific Union, with support of the Civic Federation of Hawaii.

Surrounding parcels of land were acquired with funds raised by the Civic Federation but the original plan was not feasible, even after Queen Liliuokalani gave her property there to the project, so the area was turned over to the City and County of Honolulu to be improved and developed as a park.

MAYME L. CORBETT, ca. 1880-1967

INTRODUCTION

The Mayme L. Corbett Diary is a record of slightly more than one year in the life of an island resident who was trapped on the Mainland by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. It was given to the Archives in 1981 by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gerald R. Corbett. It measures 0.5 linear inch.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Mayme Louise Corbett was the wife of John Arthur Corbett, the General Manager of Love's Bakery in Honolulu. Born Mary (Mayme) Louise McGree, in Quebec, ca. 1880, she married Corbett on September 24, 1902, in Stevens Point, Wisconsin. They had four children, one of whom, Gerald R., was active in politics and government in Honolulu. John Corbett was a business executive on the Mainland with experience in managing biscuit companies before moving to Hawaii in 1928 to take charge of Love's Biscuit and Bread Company. He died in Hawaii in 1952; she died on April 4, 1967, in St. Francis Hospital.

Sources: Records of the State of Hawaii Board of Health;
Honolulu Advertiser and Star Bulletin, 4/9/1967, A8:8;
Pan-Pacific Who's Who, 1940-41 edition.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The diary covers the period from December 7, 1941 to January 12, 1943. It discusses mostly personal, domestic matters, but it also alludes to World War II events, such as the Battle of Midway. It includes descriptions of Mayme Corbett's life in California, her efforts, finally successful in October, 1942, to return home, and her adjustments to the inconveniences of life in Hawaii under military government. The diary is most useful because it provides an unusual perspective of the events of 1942, and how some of the people caught up in those events coped with the changes they wrought.

SERIES DESCRIPTION

1. Diary. 1941-1943. 0.5 linear inch.

Contains description of the activities and experiences of Mayme Louise Corbett from the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor through mid-January of 1943. It describes efforts taken in California to secure return transportation to Hawaii; life on board a ship in convoy to Hawaii in October, 1942; and life in Honolulu under blackout, dealing with an uncertain future. It provides a look at wartime life which is quite different from the usual descriptions of this subject.
