

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

The first organic act, “to organize the Executive Ministry,” October 25, 1845, formally established the Office of the Minister of the Interior to preside over the Department of the Interior, later established on April 27, 1846, by an “act to organize the Executive Departments.” Prior to the first organic act, on March 26, 1845, King Kamehameha III entrusted the duties of the Minister of the Interior to Dr. Gerrit P. Judd, who served as Minister until February 7, 1846.

The act designated the Premier (Kuhina Nui), then John Young II, as Minister but an amendment relieving the Premier of this duty was passed on January 15, 1855. John Young II resigned the Premiership and continued to serve as Minister until June 6, 1857 when he was succeeded by Lot Kamehameha (June 1857-December 1863). Later ministers were G.M. Robertson (December 1863-February 1864), C.G. Hopkins (February 1864-April 1865), F.W. Hutchison (April 1865-January 1873), E.O. Hall (January 1873-February 1874), H.A. Widemann (February-May 1874), W.L. Green (May-October 1874), W.L. Moehonua (October 1874-December 1876), J. Mott-Smith (December 1876-July 1878), S.G. Wilder (July 1878-August 1880), J.E. Bush (August-September 1880), H.A.P. Carter (September 1880-December 1881), W.N. Armstrong (December 1881-May 1882), S.K. Kaai (May-August 1882), J.E. Bush (August 1882-July 1883), W.M. Gibson (June-October 1886), L. Aholo (October 1886-July 1887), L.A. Thurston (July 1887-June 1890), C.N. Spencer (June 1890-September 1892), C.T. Gulick (September-November 1892), G.N. Wilcox (November 1892-January 1893), J.F. Colburn (January 13-17, 1893), J.A. King (January 1893-October 1899), A. Young (October 1899-May 1900), S.M. Damon (May-June 1900).

The Minister was responsible for the general supervision over the internal affairs and the execution of duties assigned by law to his department. This included:

1. Keeping a clear, distinct and full record of all transaction of his department.
2. Care and supervision of all government lands and other property; of the internal trade and commerce; internal improvements; public health; internal police (transferred to the supervision of the Attorney General in 1868); post offices; government press; naturalization of foreigners; and other matters placed in his charge.
3. Charge of the standards of weights and measures and all original manuscript laws enacted by legislature.
4. Promulgation of such proclamations as may be made by the King.

To aid the Minister in administering these duties, several bureaus, commissions and offices were established.

Government Lands and Other Property

Land Office

Responsible for the preservation and safekeeping of government property, records of cession of private lands to the government and the disposition of government lands, real rents, forfeitures and escheats to the government; issuance of land patents on government lands sold.

The Board of Commissioners to Quiet Land Titles, February 11, 1846-December 31, 1854, was created to investigate and settle all claims of private individuals to any landed property acquired after the establishment of this board.

The Board of Commissioners of Public Lands, established August 15, 1895 for the acquisition of homesteads, composed of three commissioners, the Minister and two persons appointed by the President with the approval of the cabinet. These commissioners had the control and management of all "public lands" under the provisions of "Land Act, 1895." Under this act "public lands" were classified as follows: a) agricultural lands (3 classes); b) pastoral lands (2 classes); c) pastoral agricultural land; d) forest land; e) waste land.

Boundary Commissioners were created August 23, 1862 to settle the boundaries of lands not awarded by the land commissioners, patented or conveyed by deed from the King or government, by boundaries decided in such award, patent or deed. Copies of all certificates of boundaries issued by the commission were to be deposited in the office of the Minister of the Interior.

Bureau of Conveyance

Responsible for the registry of any deed, lease, mortgage or other instruments required by law to be recorded or presented for record; taking acknowledgment preparatory to registry; recording of any instrument authenticated by the seal of this office; granting certificates required by law.

The Registrar had the authority to appoint agents to take acknowledgments to instruments.

Surveying Bureau

Responsible for making surveys, maps and plans of the government lands, harbors and internal improvements.

Internal Trade and Commerce

Bureau of Internal Trade and Commerce

Responsible for the issuance of licenses such as: auctioneers, keepers of hotels and victualing houses, keepers of billiard tables, vendors of goods, wares and merchandise, awa, beef, opium, operators of theaters, circuses and public shows, manufacturers of wine, etc.

Coasting licenses were issued through the Collector General of Customs.

The Minister was also responsible for the shipping and discharge of seamen. He had the authority to grant to any suitable person or persons applying therefore, in writing, a license for one year to establish a shipping office for foreign seaman, at either of the ports of Honolulu, Lahaina or Hilo. One or more agents were appointed for each of the ports in whose presence all native seamen of Hawaii were to be shipped, discharged and paid off. It was the duty of the appointed agent to render full assistance to all native seamen.

Internal Improvements

Bureau of Public Works

The Superintendent of Public Works was responsible for the management and supervision of:

- a) The construction, repair and maintenance of all government buildings and other property, roads and bridges, prisons, pounds, etc.
- b) All harbor improvements. This included dredging the harbors, demarkation and improvement of channels, erection of public lights and beacons; construction and repair of all public wharves and piers.
- c) The sewerage system.
- d) The government electric light system. The superintendent of Government Electric Lights was responsible for the lighting of public streets, government buildings and private residences, and collecting the light rates.

In July 1893, the government gave the franchise for the general supply of electric power and light for the city of Honolulu to newly incorporated Hawaiian Electric Company.

Bureau of Roads and Bridges

The Road Supervisors were responsible for the direction of public labor on the roads and bridges and for the disbursement of all road taxes and moneys appropriated by the legislature for roads and bridges under the instruction of the Minister.

Road supervisors were appointed by the Minister for each taxation district.

Bureau of Public Market

The Clerk of the Market was responsible for the collection of the market fees and fines, maintenance of sanitary conditions, inspection of all weights and measures used in the public markets, and the enforcement of the market laws and regulations.

Bureau of Water Works

The Superintendent of Water Works was responsible for the maintenance of water pipes, regulation of the water supply and water rates, collection of water rents, the construction and maintenance of artesian wells, reservoirs, water plants, fire hydrants, etc.

Bureau of the Honolulu Fire Department

When established on May 8, 1851, the department consisted of a Chief Engineer, four fire wardens and several firemen. The Chief Engineer, four fire wardens and several firemen. The Chief Engineer, in all cases of fire had sole and absolute control and command over all the members of the fire department.

In 1888 the department consisted of a Chief Engineer, two assistant engineers, a Fire Marshal and as many firemen as found necessary. The general care and supervision remained directly under the Minister and the Chief Engineer continued to have the care, control and custody of the department property. The Fire Marshal replaced the fire wardens and it was his duty to divide the city of Honolulu into four districts, reporting their boundaries to the Chief Engineer; to examine the dwelling houses and other buildings for the purpose of ascertaining any violation of the law; to prosecute all persons guilty of a violation of the law.

In 1893 the Board of Fire Commissioners was created and the office of the Fire Marshal was abolished. The board was responsible for the general care and supervision of the fire department. It had the power to issue general rules and regulations for the government of the department, as they deemed necessary. The duties of the Fire Marshal were transferred to the Chief Engineer.

Bureau of Immigration

Established December 30, 1864, for the purpose of superintending the importation of foreign laborers and to encourage immigration. The bureau constituted of the Minister and five members of the Privy Council of State.

The Minister with the assistance of the bureau devised and recommended for adoption, such rules and regulations necessary for the government and control of the immigrants admitted to Hawaii.

By a law passed June 23, 1868, the bureau was authorized to import Polynesians from other Pacific islands and to provide by contract for their support and employment. This measure was taken to prevent the depopulation of the Hawaiian Islands.

Board of Health

Established May 8, 1851, for the general oversight and care of the public health. It was the duty of the board to make regulations necessary for the public health and safety; for the internment of the dead and respecting cemeteries and burying grounds; for the government of hospitals placed under the board's supervision; to prevent the spread of leprosy.

In 1865, the Minister, acting as president of the board, was given the authority to establish leper settlements and hospitals for the prevention of the spread of leprosy. He was also authorized to issue licenses to practice medicine upon the recommendation of the board.

In June 1894 the board was given the control and management of the Insane Asylum.

Insane Asylum

Established by an act on August 23, 1862. The asylum was under the direct supervision of the Minister who had the authority to appoint the hospital physician and the overall management of the hospital.

An act approved June 1, 1894, transferred to the Board of Health all the powers and duties heretofore vested in the Minister in relation to the care of insane persons and the discharge of those who had been insane but have been restored to sound mind.

Prisons, Jails and Houses of Correction

The Minister was responsible for the construction and maintenance of the prisons, jails and houses of correction as found necessary for the safekeeping, governing and employing of all persons duly committed thereof.

The Marshal was responsible for the care and custody of prisoners. He appointed the jailors and other officers upon the approval of the Minister and made monthly reports relating to prison activities to the Minister.

On July 16, 1890, an act was enacted transferring the care and custody of prisoners to the Department of the Attorney General.

Improvement of Agriculture and Manufactures

It was the duty of the Minister to promote improvements in agriculture and manufactures by:

- a) Collecting and distributing seeds and plants, etc.
- b) Protecting and preserving the woods and forests.
- c) Making grants to agricultural societies such as the Royal Hawaiian Agricultural Society.
- d) Issuing patents or caveats to inventors or improvers of machines, manufactures or works of art, in the interest of science, agriculture or manufactures. The position of Commissioner of Patents was created August 29, 1884 to issue patents, caveats and copyrights.

The Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry was organized on January 4, 1893, for the advancement of agriculture, preservation of forests, improvement of livestock, and protection against the introduction of plant diseases or insect pests. The bureau was authorized to formulate rules and regulations necessary for the promotion of its goals; to establish experiment stations; to offer premiums to the encouragement of new agricultural enterprises; etc.

The Minister was also responsible for the care and supervision of all public grounds and nurseries and the Royal Mausoleum.

Post Offices

The Postmaster General, under the supervision of the Minister, had the care and control of the post offices. He had the authority to make rules and regulations necessary for the government of the post offices and for the safe and speedy transmission and delivery of the mails; to appoint postmasters in various districts as required by the public; and he was required to report all transactions of the General Post Office to the Minister.

The Honolulu Post Office was established on August 4, 1851.

By an act of the 1890 Legislature January 1, 1891 the supervision of the post offices was transferred to the Department of Finance.

Government Press

The Director of the Government Press, appointed by the Minister, was responsible for the control and management of the Government Press and had sole responsibility thereof. It was his duty as "ex officio" editor of the government newspaper, the Polynesian, to publish therein all laws, orders, proclamations, reports, decisions, circulars and notices sent to him by the government departments. He had the authority to execute job printing, for private persons, at rates profitable for the government. He was required to submit annual reports to the Minister. The Minister was given the power to rent, sell or lease the Government Press whenever he deemed best for the public interests and had the authority to contract for government printing and for the publication of laws, orders, etc.

In 1863 the Press was leased to Mr. A. Fornander and later sold in October 1879.

Naturalization of Foreigners

The Minister was entrusted with the superintendence and direction of the naturalization of foreigners. He had the authority to administer the oath of allegiance to those accepted for naturalization.

The Minister of the Interior was also entrusted with other matters specifically designated by law. This included:

- 1) The Board of Genealogy of Hawaiian Chiefs, created August 9, 1880, which was responsible for the gathering of information on the history and genealogy of the Hawaiian Chiefs.
- 2) Appointments of Notaries Public, Agents to Grant Marriage Licenses, Agents to Perform the Marriage Ceremony, Commissioners of Private Ways and Water Rights, Fence Commissioners, etc.
- 3) Election matters, such as issuing election proclamations, appointing the electoral registrar and election inspectors, designating election sites, providing ballot boxes for each election district, and filing of the election returns.
- 4) Promoting construction of railways and railroads; installation of telephone, telegraph and cables; inter-island steam navigation; and development of the island resources.

5) Granting charters of incorporation.

Following the annexation of Hawaii to the United States in 1898, the Office of the Minister of the Interior was abolished by the Organic Act, establishing a territorial government for Hawaii, effective June 14, 1900. The duties of the Minister were transferred to:

1) Department of the Attorney General

Those duties relating to prisons, prisoners and prison inspectors; notaries public; and escheat of lands under the laws of Hawaii.

2) Department of the Treasurer

Duties relating to licenses, corporations, companies, registry of conveyances and registration of prints, labels and trademarks.

3) Commissioner of Public Lands

The issuing of land patents; settlement of boundaries; and sales, grants, leases and dispositions of public property.

4) Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry

5) Superintendent of Public Works

The supervision of all public improvements and all duties not granted specifically to another agency.

6) Surveyor

The powers and duties of the Surveyor General under the Minister.

7) Secretary of the Territory

The recording and preserving of all the laws and proceedings of the legislature and all acts and proceedings of the governor; promulgating proclamations of the governor; and matters relating to elections.

Other duties performed as an independent nation came under Federal control, such as patents, copyrights, immigration and naturalization.

SERIES DESCRIPTION

234 NATURALIZATION RECORDS. 1838-1898. 38 linear inches. 6 5-inch boxes, 1 3-inch box, and 3 oversized volumes.

Arranged by sub-series and generally chronologically thereunder.

Documents the process of acquiring Hawaiian nationality after birth. Consists of Certificates of Nationality, Register of Oaths of Allegiance, Oaths of Allegiance, Naturalization Record Books, correspondence, and applications for naturalization. Following the establishment of constitutional government, authority to naturalize foreign citizens was vested in the Minister of the Interior by the Act to Organize the Executive Departments in 1846, but Oaths of Allegiance to the government of the Sandwich Islands are recorded as early as 1838. The requirements for naturalization were: submission of a Certificate of Nationality (1846-1854); taking an oath of allegiance to the government before an official of the Interior Department for residents of Oahu or before a judge for residents of islands other than Oahu; and residency of 1 year from 1846-1882 and 5 years from 1882-1894. In 1894, the constitution of the Republic of Hawaii vested the authority to naturalize foreigners in the Supreme Court.

Certificates of Nationality. 1846-1854. 1 linear inch. 1 volume.

Documents registration of all aliens who wished to enter into business partnerships, lease land, or become citizens as authorized by the Act to Organize the Executive Departments in 1846. Includes name, place and country of origin, and date of issue. Also called Certificates of Domiciled Aliens.

For access, see extracted index in Indexes to Records Concerning Citizens and Residents in the Hawaiian Islands (Call number 351.817 H3). (Uukau has 4)
4-17 REF

Register of Oaths of Allegiance. 1844-1893. 2 linear inches. 2 volumes.

Within each volume, arranged alphabetically and chronologically thereunder.

Records administration of loyalty oath prior to naturalization; contains name, country, date of naturalization, and Naturalization Record Book volume and page number.

Oaths of Allegiance. 1838-1844. .25 linear in.

Contains oaths of loyalty to the king taken in Honolulu and Lahaina. Gives name of applicant and date of oath. The records are primarily in Hawaiian.

Naturalization Record Books. 1844-1894. 21.5 linear inches. 20 volumes, 1 folder.

Record of Oaths of Allegiance from 1844 to Aug. 20, 1888 and of Certificates of Naturalization from Sept. 24, 1888 to 1894; contains name, place of origin, and current place of residence of applicants. Also available on microfilm. Use microfilm no. 79 (MFL 79) Naturalization Books.

For access, see Naturalization Index, 1844-1894 (call number 351.817 H29).

Applications for Naturalization. 1885-1894. 8.5 linear inches.

Consists of letters of application for citizenship or, beginning in 1887, application forms. May also include loyalty oaths. Gives name, place of origin, and length and place of residence in Hawaii of applicants.

Correspondence about Naturalization. 1858-1893, 1896, 1899. .5 linear inches.

Consists of letters to the Minister of the Interior from government officials transmitting applications, fees, letters of recommendation, and oaths of allegiance; inquiries from private citizens about the citizenship status of individuals; and, after 1893, confiscated naturalization certificates of Chinese. Some letters are in Hawaiian.
